

NESCAFE RED CUP /CLASSIC
'ARCTIC FIND'

Super: Somewhere in the Arctic...

Open on another great sunrise in the Arctic. It's still dark as Terry and Bob set off on an expedition to check some instruments.

Later when it is lighter they stop near an ice escarpment to have a coffee. Bob pours out the coffee from a red flask and hands a cup to Terry, who gratefully cups his hands around the cup and takes a sip.

While they standing around enjoying their coffee Bob notices something sticking out a wall ice.

On closer inspection it turns out to be the tusk. Bob uses the steam off his coffee to melt the frosting on the ice. Frozen in the ice is full sized Mammoth.

They both stand there sipping their coffee wondering what to do next. Suddenly Terry has an idea.

Cut to him rummaging through the skidoo trailer and producing a chain saw. He waves it in the air and starts it up.

Cut to Terry and Bob back at the base standing round a BBQ. Terry then gets a shovel and dumps a huge steak about the size of a small coffee table onto the grill. They chink their coffee cups and laugh.

Cut to pack shot and two steaming mugs of coffee.

V/O: Kick start your day with Nescafe

Super: One thing leads to another